

COMMAND SERGEANT FRANKIE M. LONG

Command Sgt. Maj. Frankie M. Long entered active duty in 1981. Long attended Basic Training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and Advanced Individual Training at Fort Jackson, S.C.

Long attended numerous military schools to include Primary Leadership Course, Basic Noncommissioned Officer Course, Advanced Noncommissioned Officer Course, and First Sergeant's Course. She is a graduate of Nuclear Biological Chemical Defense School, Foreign Material Intelligence Course, Medical Supply Course, Total Army Instructor Course, Small Group Instructor Training Course, Sergeants Major Course (Class 54) and Command Sergeant Major Course (Class 04).

Long's assignments include: Battalion Command Sergeant Major 3-345th, Fort, Gillem, Ga.; Battalion Command Sergeant Major, 2-347th Fort Gordon, Ga., Chief ANCOC/ BNCOC, Sergeants Major Academy, Fort Bliss, Texas; Director of Enlisted Courses, 4th Chemical Battalion 108th Div, Fort Jackson, S.C.; Instructor Writer/ First Sergeant, Noncommissioned Office Education System, 1082 Training Detachment, Concord, NC; Instructor Writer, 9th Battalion Quarter Master, Decatur, Ga.; Platoon Sergeant, 401st Chemical Company, Rome, Ga.; Squad leader B Company 427th Medical Logistics Battalion; Squad leader A Company 337th Military Intelligence Battalion, East Point, Ga.

She has a Bachelors of Science in Liberal Arts from Excelsior College and a Master Certificate in Applied Project Management. Long's awards and decorations include the Army Commendation Medal, Good Conduct Medal, Army Reserve Component Achievement Medal (Silver Oak Leaf Cluster), National Defense Service Ribbon (Bronze Star), Global War On Terrorism Service Medal, Armed Forces Reserve Medal (Silver Oak Leaf Cluster), Noncommissioned Officer Professional Development Ribbon (with Numeral 4) Army Service Ribbon.